

THE BETTENDORF ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Bettendorf, Iowa, Rotary Club
Dec. 9, 2015, issue

Next meeting:

Wednesday, Dec. 16, 2015,
at Tanglewood Pavilion

It's an update on Bett. parks, recreation

Steve Grimes, Bettendorf parks and recreation director, is the scheduled speaker at the Dec. 16 meeting. The city recently received a national bike-friendly award; he'll explain the significance of the award and talk about plans for future bike-related development.

In addition, according to program chair Scott Naumann, Steve will provide an overview of the full range of Bettendorf's amenities for recreation, health and wellness. These are all ways the city fulfills its recreation mission: "To provide recreational opportunities that enrich the quality of life for all.

[It's worth noting that Bettendorf has 21 parks scattered throughout the city. They include Kiwanis and Optimist parks – but not a Rotary Park....]

Getting into the Christmas spirit

Thanks to our own Theron Schutte, superintendent of Bettendorf Schools, the Bettendorf Rotary enjoyed a mini-concert of Christmas choral music at the Dec. 9 meeting.

Brandon Fraseur, director of choral activities at Bettendorf High School, brought 14 members of the school's Chamber Choir to sing seasonal carols and songs – in four languages.

After opening with a rousing rendition of "Angels We Have Heard on High," the ensemble sang:

- "Bebe Yetu" in Swahili
- "Hacia Belén ya un burrito" in Spanish
- "All Is Well" and
- "Bonzorno Madonna," an Italian madrigal

The performance concluded with a group of familiar traditional carols – "Deck the Halls," "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night.” During that segment, the students introduced themselves.

Announcements...

→Our new sign: Brad Morrison announced that the “Rotary Meets Here” sign will be installed, as a New Member project, at noon this Friday, Dec. 11. It will be positioned beside the Tanglewood Pavilion sign on Middle Road. “I just need some muscle,” Brad said. “If you can make it, please come and help.”

→Holiday Baskets: After finishing his salad, Bill Daly announced details of the club’s delivery of Christmas food and gift baskets to 15 families. HyVee is assembling them so they’ll be “lighter and with more bags,” he said, adding that each volunteer will receive full details in an email.

throughout the QC. BRC will give away $25,000 in January at a special luncheon.
