What's new in Bett. recreation

With Bettendorf having won a Bronze Award as a Bicycle-Friendly Community, Steve Grimes, director of Bettendorf parks and recreation, used the Dec. 16 meeting to provide more information about the award – and a roundup of recent recreational developments in the city.

Steve turned the microphone over to Donnie Miller, Bettendorf's pedestrian and cycling coordinator (the first one in the QC), to explain just how prestigious the Bicycle-Friendly Award is.

Bettendorf is one of only six Iowa communities to be recognized by the American League of Bicyclists – and among 371 in all of the U.S. The group judges communities on their cycling friendliness using criteria in “the 5-E’s,” Donnie explained:

- Engineering – the actual cycling facilities built in the community
- Education – for example, educating vehicles drivers how to share the road with cyclists
- Enforcement – enforcing laws that keep cyclists safe
- Encouragement – events, such as bike-to-work days, to spur bike ridership
- Evaluation – judging the city’s fulfillment of bike-friendly criteria – and helping it excel toward a higher ranking in future years.

Donnie noted that “everyone likes to come to the QC and ride out trails” because the community occupies the crossroads of the American Discovery

Trail, from coast to coast, and the Mississippi River trail, from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico.

Steve described some of the city's newest recreational offerings:

- Two deck hockey rinks at Crow Creek Park – the sport has grown to draw more than 2,000 participants in two years
- Pickle ball courts at Kiwanis Park to expand kids' fitness opportunities. Other additions include the GaGa Pit – site of a kind of dodge-ball – near the Band Shell; expanded girls softball leagues, and Zumba exercise sessions at the Bettendorf Fitness Center
- The US67 recreation trail, for cyclists, joggers and walkers, parallels the highway along the Mississippi River through Bettendorf, Riverdale – and on to LeClaire next year, he said

Steve also charted the development of Forest Grove Park in far northeast Bettendorf, which will eventually be home to many recreation activities on its 100 acres.

Presentation...

→ Thanks for your service: President Kevin Kraft presented Christmas thank-you gifts to Juli and Donna Sundholm, our weekly hostesses at Tanglewood Pavilion. Later, Juli sent this email:

“Donna and I would like to thank everyone at Bettendorf Rotary for their wonderful gift that we received today. It was totally unexpected but very much appreciated! We hope you all have a very Merry Christmas and a safe New Year!”

“Thanks again from the bottom of our hearts!”

Announcements...

➔The ‘Bettendorf Rotary Bowl’: Tim Lane informed us of the newest winter-season bowl game – the Bettendorf Rotary Bowl, Dec. 30 at Millertime Lanes. Members play free – which includes all bowling and shoe rental, and guests pay just $10 apiece. The first ball will roll down a lane at 5 p.m. If you plan to go, contact Tim (563.320.9161 / tim.lane@edwardjones.com) or Secretary Johanna (760.458.1218 / Johanna M Smith@hotmail.com).

➔Holiday Party: Secretary Johanna Smith said BRC’s annual Holiday Party

– with appetizers, bar service and an ugly sweater competition

– will begin at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 20, at Tanglewood Pavilion and run “until 8 or 9,” she added. The cost and other details will be announced later, but you can make your reservation any time (760.458.1218 / Johanna M Smith@hotmail.com).

➔Charities Board grants: BRC will make its annual grants to charitable organizations – 14 of them this year – at the Jan. 27, 2016, meeting, at Tanglewood Pavilion. As in previous years, BRC grants will total $25,000.

➔QC Young Professionals event: BRC members Will Doland and Christy Gause represent BRC in the planning of an event to recruit young professionals to join the QC’s Rotary clubs. The event is scheduled for 5:30-7:30 p.m. Feb. 25. Any BRC member can invite a young professional guest to attend (current members will pay $10).

➔District 6000 Conference: President Kevin invited any member to attend the district leadership conference Friday and Saturday, April 1-2, 2016, in Des Moines. Watch for more details.
